

Tablets for Productivity:

How Law Firms Are Getting Things Done

#APP9

Panel

◆ Brian Donato

- CIO, Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease LLP

◆ Tami Schiller

- Sr. Analyst & Consultant, Traveling Coaches, Inc.

◆ Gina Buser, Moderator

- CEO, Traveling Coaches, Inc.

Tablet Use

48% of all attorneys report using a tablet

91% use an iPad - ABA 2013 Tech Survey

Workflow-User

Hell, there are no rules here - we're trying to accomplish something. - Thomas Edison

Do you know what they are trying to achieve and why?

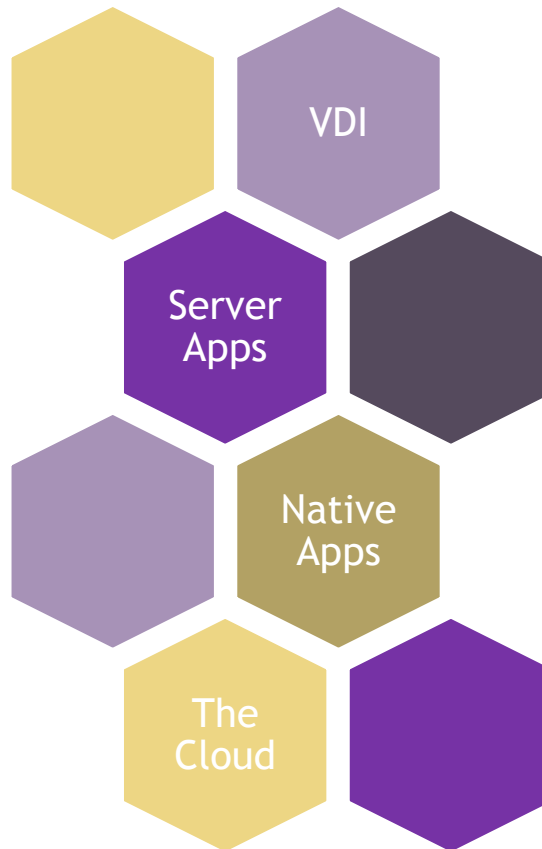

What should happen and when should it happen?

Are there systems/tech in place to support the effort?

Are there any obstacles in the way?

What will make a solution easier?

Workflow-Tech

#APP9

~~Training~~ Learning

Facilitate and encourage peer sharing and collaboration.

Establish peer experts or mentors/coaches.

Implement internal social tools for knowledge sharing.

Encourage experimentation and application of new skills in real situations.

Innovate and socialize the classroom experience.

Work with people one-on-one in their work environment.

Add to your learning tools and content.

BYOD

80% of attorneys using a tablet own their device; less than 20% of tablet users are using something issued to them by their law firm.

ABA 2013 Tech Survey

Security

“The more mobility you have, the more documents you're sending through the internet, the more likely you are to be the victim of a cyber attack, and that's what we're seeing at law firms.”

Mary Galigan, FBI at Legal Tech NY 2013

Future

3-2 Apple's Smartphone Star Will Soar

208 million global information workers want iPhones.<sup>3</sup>

Base: 9,766 global information workers

3-3 Microsoft's Tablet Future Looks Bright

200 million global information workers want Windows tablets.<sup>3</sup>

Base: 9,766 global information workers

?

Thank you